

*BREAKING NEWS FROM THE ESCAPEES MAIL SERVICE****

URGENT NEWS!

We have recently become aware of a USPS addressing problem with our unique Rainbow Drive address. Apparently, when the post office released its update to correct the Robin Drive problem, another one surfaced.

Now, our unique zip code, 77399, is not being recognized as a Livingston zip code. It IS being recognized as Escapees, TX. While the thought of Escapees, TX, sounds pretty cool it has deeper ramifications.

What does this mean to you? Any company that uses address verification (CASS) software from the USPS and has updated their software recently may question your address. As with the Robin Drive problem, if a company has recently updated their CASS software, they may not update their software again for six months.

What is Escapees doing to fix this? We are diligently working with our Houston USPS contact to get this problem fixed immediately. We also plan to work with our local and state elected officials to put more pressure on the USPS to fix this problem.

What is the USPS doing? Our Houston postal representative, Paige, is working with their programmers for a resolution to this problem.

Please trust that we are not happy about this new problem, either, and are devoting all our resources to getting this problem corrected.
